While lasers whittle waistlines with noninvasive beams of light, they also simultaneously entertain clients with a colorful visual accompaniment to their Tolstoy audio books. Witness the wonder of laser technology with today's Groupon: for $149, you get two LipoLaser sessions at Lighthouse Health & Body Makeover (a $666 value).

Lighthouse Health's staff employs a 16-diode laser system to tone stubborn waistlines and eradicate inches of insulation. During a one-hour nonsurgical treatment, LipoLaser permeates the skin and stimulates the subcutaneous fat cells residing beneath the surface. Much like students in a lecture on sawdust classification, fatty acids quickly evacuate their steadfast seating and float freely within the lymphatic hallways of the body. The final 30 minutes of the procedure end with a stint atop a whole-body vibration unit, which shimmies off clingy fat cells before the infrared sauna evicts the lingering tenants.
